Important Information for District Administrators/Teachers/Users and All Other Parties Developing Items to be submitted to Vantage Learning and its Affiliated Entities (“Vantage”). (Please read carefully):

The following agreement, terms and conditions apply to school districts, administrators, teachers or other parties developing test items, test prompts, essay prompts, or any other submitted items identified above (“Item Content”) for submission and use within Vantage’s MY Access!™, Measured Success®, College Success®, Student Progress Monitoring System® (“SPMS”), or any other Vantage Applied Programming Interface (“Vantage SaaS”). Only valid paid licensees have authority to access and use any Vantage SaaS. Please consult your applicable Vantage SaaS End User License Agreement (“EULA”), for details regarding authorization. You may not share or otherwise divulge the username and password assigned to you to any other person, doing so will invalidate your license. Certain licensees, typically teachers and school administrators, may choose to use the applicable Vantage SaaS to create and or submit original Item Content for use within Vantage SaaS. Similarly, individuals who do not hold a Vantage SaaS license may also choose to submit original Item Content in which case, such individuals are not legally entitled to use Vantage SaaS. However, by choosing to submit Item content, you acknowledge, assent to and agree to abide by all Intellectual Property law pertaining to and protecting that Vantage SaaS and/or any third parties and accept all of the applicable terms of that Vantage SaaS' EULA. You acknowledge and warrant that your submission all of the above Item Content shall be limited exclusively to your personal development and input of original Item Content. Misuse of copyrighted and similarly protected intellectual property is a serious violation of law. You agree that you will not copy, reproduce, duplicate, import, borrow, cut and paste, or otherwise replicate nor disseminate any material from any other source other your own including, but not limited to, material found in text books, course curricula, state exams, published test items, items found on the internet, in manuals, training guides, or any other like materials notwithstanding your opinion of or reliance upon the legal doctrine of "Fair Use" of copyrighted materials. Any violation of this use may constitute a federal and/or state of foreign violation of law and shall constitute a breach of your Vantage SaaS license that shall result in immediate termination of such license. Those submitting Item Content as well as licensees using any Vantage SaaS Item Authoring Tool or the Vantage Learning Platform (VLP)TM irrevocably grant Vantage an exclusive royalty-free, transferable, unlimited and perpetual worldwide license to (i) use, reproduce, publicly perform, publicly display, demonstrate, market, disclose, distribute and prepare Derivative Matters of and compile Item content on any media or via any electronic or other method now known or later discovered and (ii) to sublicense the foregoing rights to Item Content for use in production and support of Vantage's products or services. Vantage's exercise of this license grant shall be at Vantage's sole discretion and may be performed by Vantage directly or through Vantage designees.
